

Youth Canoe Trip

A middle school and high school canoe trip, based out of Wilderness Canoe Base, will return to the camp's island base, the Saturday of Resurrection's Family Camp. Our groups will share a reflection time Saturday evening, Sunday morning worship, and can travel back to Resurrection together. Family camp questions? Talk to Sarah Storvick. Go to Hannah Lorence with Youth Trip questions.

Cross the bridge of the master for daily worship.

Please note that Camp WAPO, near Amery, Wisconsin, does offer two family camp weekends at WAPO—July 19-21 and August 9-11. Families with younger children may prefer to register for one of these weekends, led by WAPO staff. Family Camp, at WAPO, is a great way to introduce your children to this beloved camp, where students may go for a summer weekend or week. Register online for any family camp weekend, beginning 1/15/19, the same date online registration opens for summer WAPO youth camps.

Family Camp at Wilderness

July 18-21, 2019

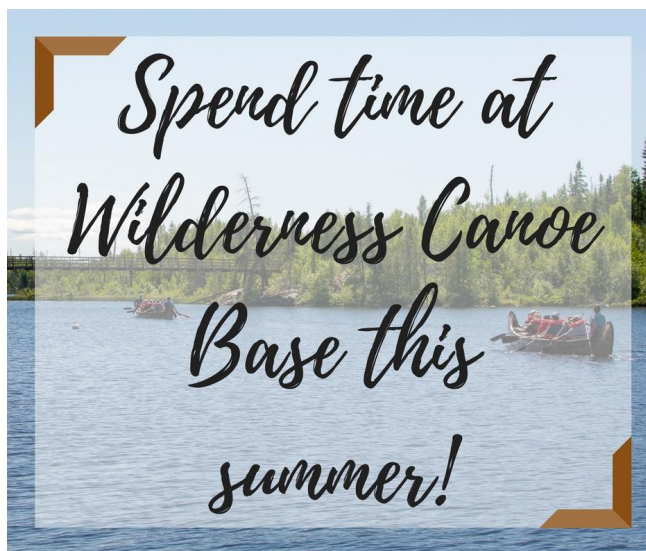

Wilderness Canoe Base

Enjoy a variety of activities, of your choosing, such as nature hikes, berry-picking, campfires, saunas, Bible studies, beach games, canoeing, relaxing, Vespers, and rock-climbing. Customize your weekend to suit your family.

Wilderness Canoe Base, part of the Lake Wapogasset Lutheran Bible Camp association, is on two scenic islands, about an hour's drive up the Gunflint Trail, past Grand Marais.

Be inspired by a Christ-centered wilderness experience with your family.
Be amazed and awed by God's beautiful creation.

Cost for Family Camp

For the full 3-night Wilderness Canoe Base family camp, fees are ~

- Children (3-11) ~ $137/child
- Youth (12-17) ~ $197/youth
- Adults (18+) ~ $227/adult

Resurrection will support any registered family in need with $75 toward your total family payment. Wilderness has a cap of $750 per family, so if your family total exceeds $750, you do not need to pay more than that amount unless you choose to support the camp in that way.

Deposit of $100/family is due by April 30. Remaining payment due July 1, 2019.

1. Please turn in enclosed paper registration form to Sarah Storvick to help us reserve spaces.
2. Then register online.
